From the Pastor's Desk

Dear People of God,
Once again, Happy New year.
I just want to remind you that apart from the Clergy who has the duty of bringing communion to the sick and the homebound, the Eucharistic ministers are as well permitted by the priest to do same after undergoing some form of training for that. Therefore, if communion has to be brought to the sick or homebound, first inform the office and the clergy will be notified. However, in case someone is not trained for that, but there is the urgent need to take communion after mass in a pyx to a person sick at home who could not be present in church, inform the clergy to let you know what to do (at least you need a simple altar to put the pyx on) before giving communion to the sick person at home. Let us continue to give maximum reverence to the precious species. Praised be Jesus Christ!
Fr. Maxwell
